

Development & Outreach Coordinator, AmeriCorps VISTA

Are you passionate about educational equity and social justice? Looking to make a real difference for children and families? Excited to gain professional skills and experience to springboard a meaningful and rewarding nonprofit career? During a year of AmeriCorps VISTA service with the Oakland Literacy Coalition (OLC) you'll do all the above while building the capacity of an innovative and emerging nonprofit leading the effort to transform the Oakland community through the power of literacy and collaboration.

ABOUT US:

The Oakland Literacy Coalition serves as a hub to connect and strengthen the literacy efforts taking place all across our city. We know that building a future where every Oakland child learns and loves to read will take all of us. That's why we've built a thriving network of organizations and stakeholders to support our city's learners and make better, faster progress together. We create opportunities to learn, collaborate, leverage resources, and build awareness for a citywide literacy agenda that supports equity and outcomes for all students. Through our Oakland Reads campaign we inform, engage, and connect students, schools, community partners, and parents to resources to ensure every child is ready for kindergarten and has the support they need to read and thrive by third grade. Our small, highly collaborative team is led by two co-directors, including a former VISTA.

THE ROLE:

As a key member of our team, you will fill a vital fundraising and outreach role. You will gain insight to the inner workings of a new and growing non-profit organization and get hands-on experience in fundraising, coalition building, and nonprofit communications. You'll receive benefits, build great connections in the local education and nonprofit field, and receive coaching and mentorship to support your professional growth.

This is a year-long position beginning February 19, 2019. You will work full time out of our office in Oakland, shared with another education nonprofit organization, and will periodically attend off-site meetings and events.
